

Call for Proposals

Present a Paper at the Omicron Delta Epsilon Graduate-Student Session at the 2012 ASSA Meetings

Background: In January 2012, Omicron Delta Epsilon (ODE) will sponsor a graduate-student session at the annual meeting of the Allied Social Science Association in Chicago. This session, which is sponsored jointly by ODE and the American Economic Association, will include four papers, each with a presenter and a discussant; ODE will assign discussants from among the presenters. ODE invites submissions from all graduate students and from all fields of economics. Selected papers will compete for ODE's Irving Fisher Graduate Article Award and be eligible for submission to the The American Economist.

Graduate-student members of ODE are eligible for Benjamin M. Friedman Travel Awards, which reimburse presenters for their documented travel and lodging expenses of up to $500. To receive this award, a presenter must confirm membership in ODE in a letter from her/his chapter advisor to the program chair. (Membership in ODE is life long, and most students are inducted into the society when they are undergraduates. Departments who wish to organize or reactivate chapters should contact Professor Farhang Niroomand at 800-584-5514 or fax 251-928-0015.)

Instructions: Please complete this form and send it with an abstract of 500 words or less to Joseph Santos at the address below by June 1, 2011. We welcome electronic submissions. Please use the JEL (Journal of Economic Literature) classification system for articles and abstracts to identify the subject areas of your paper and the subject areas that you prefer to discuss. ODE will select papers and notify authors by July 1, 2011.
